ENDANGERED[®]

goddess

Why does Endangered Goddess change colour?

You may have noticed our beloved EDT change colour.

The colour change is cosmetic and does not mean the fragrance has gone bad.

The cause of the change in colour:
Natural Ingredients (Vanilla)
Oxidation
Heat

Did you know?

Vanilla-based fragrances often contain materials such as vanillin, ethyl vanillin or naturally vanilla extracts. These ingredients are naturally prone to oxidation and therefore may change colour over time.

Notes in Endangered Goddess: Coconut, vanilla and honey.
